1975

CONSTITUTION/BYLAWS

EXECUTIVE OFFICES

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF TRAFFIC AND TRANSPORTATION

547 W. JACKSON BLVD. • CHICAGO, ILL. 60606 • 929-2491 (312)

August 1, 1975
CODE OF ETHICS
AMERICAN SOCIETY OF
TRAFFIC AND TRANSPORTATION

ONE — A person holding membership in the Society, by virtue of having successfully met all of its examination requirements, may describe himself as a "Certified Member — American Society of Traffic and Transportation." A person holding membership in the Society, by virtue of having qualified under the Founder's requirement, may describe himself as a "Founder Member — American Society of Traffic and Transportation." A person holding membership in the Society, by virtue of having qualified under the Sustaining requirements, may describe himself as a "Sustaining Member — American Society of Traffic and Transportation." A person holding membership in the Society, by virtue of having qualified under the "Educator requirements, may describe himself as an "Educator Member" — American Society of Traffic and Transportation." A person holding membership in the Society, by virtue of having qualified under the Associate requirements, may describe himself as an "Associate Member — American Society of Traffic and Transportation." A person who has qualified in any of the above categories and who has retired from active pursuit of his profession shall be entitled to describe himself as a "Member Emeritus — American Society of Traffic and Transportation."

TWO — A person holding membership in the Society shall strictly observe any law or laws regarding the use and application of the title "Traffic Manager," or other similar designations, which may be in effect in the particular state or states in which such member resides, is employed, or engages in practice.

THREE — The conduct of those holding membership in this Society with each other and before the public generally should be characterized by candor and fairness, and should be such as to uphold at all times the honor of their calling and to maintain the dignity of their profession.

FOUR — A person holding membership in the Society shall consider and hold confidential all information imparted to him in the course of his employment, and shall not disclose same except upon authority of the client or clients to which such information properly belongs, or when required to do so by a mandate of law.

FIVE — No one holding membership in the Society shall undertake to render professional services under any circumstances or upon any terms that would jeopardize the good name of the profession or impair the standing of any other person.

SIX — Those holding membership in the Society are hereby deemed responsible for the professional conduct of persons in their employ. Consequently, they should, through exemplary conduct on their own part, strive

Motto
"Toward Excellence in Traffic, Transportation and Physical Distribution Management"